

QSL Fact Sheet

Current as of 9 September 2017

Transferring Pricing to QSL (Novation)

Wilmar Sugar Growers who have conducted pricing with a financial institution can choose to transfer (novate) their pricing to QSL.

While QSL charges no fees for this service, it should be noted that Growers in such arrangements may be liable for fees and charges from their existing pricing provider, and should refer to their current pricing agreement or provider for details of these.

Technical limitations may also restrict QSL's ability to novate pricing from a GEI Sugar Marketer or bank to QSL.

Due to the varied nature of these agreements and the pricing involved, novation requests must be processed by QSL on a case-by-case basis.

To assist with this, Wilmar Sugar Growers interested in novation are asked to contact the QSL Treasury Team on 07 3004 4400.

This Fact Sheet contains information of a general or summary nature. While all care is taken in the preparation of this document, the reliability, accuracy or completeness of the information provided in the document is not guaranteed and it does not constitute financial product or investment advice. QSL does not accept any responsibility to any person for the decisions and actions taken by that person with respect to any of the information contained in this document.